Colombia Will Be There.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Latin-American department of the world's fair has just received a cablegram from Bogota announcing that the congress of Colombia has appropriated $80,000 in gold for the expense of making a proper representation of the resources of that country at the Chicago exposition. Commissioners have been appointed to take charge of the preparation of an exhibit and have already begun their labors.

Household Effects Free of Duty.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The treasury department has informed a correspondent that household effects that have been in use abroad for more than a year, need not be accompanied in importation by the owner in order to secure free entry, but that duty will be assessed on personal effects not accompanied by the owners.

THE CHILIAN WAR.

Recent Reports from That Country Said to Be Erroneous.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A few months ago the steamer Montserrat left this port with a cargo of provisions for Chili. Yesterday she returned with a cargo of nitrate which she obtained at Pisagua, where the mines are mostly in the hands of English capitalists and are being worked to their utmost capacity. Captain Hughes, of the Montserrat, says that much of the information received in this country concerning the affairs in Chili are erroneous and sensational. He says there has been no fighting there to speak of for three months. He says the insurgents are badly in need of commanding officers, most of the generals who conducted the campaign against Peru being in Europe.

There seems to be no prospect of immediate settlement unless Balmaceda forces one by the aid of the new vessels now en route from Europe. If they reach Chili without falling into the hands of the insurgents, they will probably turn the tide of battle in favor of Balmaceda.

APPROVED AT WASHINGTON.

Under A WAGONBED.

SHELBYVILLE, July 30.—John McCleire, 65, was found dead in the Delour lumber yard yesterday, and it is thought he was foully dealt with. When found he was lying under a wagonbed which had been turned bottom side up, the edge resting on his head. It was found that his jaw was broken and he was otherwise bruised about the head.

If foully dealt with, the bed was placed in that position to leave the impression that he had pulled it over while trying to get into it to sleep. This is barely possible, as McCleire was seen in the evening with money. He was well dressed and was not drinking, and no money or other valuables was found on his person yesterday morning. He came from Rushville on the evening train, and lived at Jeffersonville when at home. It is thought he is a relative of Senator David McClure, of Jeffersonville, Ind.

On the Lookout for Tramps.

GOSHEN, Ind., July 30.—The sheriff of this county received word yesterday to be on the lookout for a gang of tramps who had shot and mortally wounded Abraham Seitz, the night watchman at Ligonier, Tuesday night. Seitz caught them robbing a store and opened fire upon them, which they returned, shooting him three times, in the abdomen, groin and breast, from the effects of which he died yesterday morning. The tramps fled, and are still at large.

Will Appeal to the Courts.

BALTIMORE, July 30.—The Druggists' association and the local telephone company having failed to come to a satisfactory agreement. The former have decided to discontinue the service after Aug. 1. The druggists will appeal to the legislature to fix the tolls for telephone service.

Found Dead in a Cistern.

CANTON, O., July 30.—Mrs. Mary Stanley, a prominent lady of Damascus, was found dead in a cistern at her home. It is not known whether she committed suicide or accidentally fell into the cistern.

Ex-Speaker Reed Back.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed was among the passengers arriving on the steamer City of New York from Liverpool yesterday.

CRUSHED BY A TRUSS.

Shocking Accident at Pittsburg Costing Three Lives.

PITTSBURG, July 30.—The new padding mill of the Pittsburg Oil Well Supply company, at Frankstown, this city, collapsed about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, killing three men and seriously injuring three others. Their names were:

Killed—Michael Manning, B. Corkin, George Lemon.

A number of others were slightly hurt.

The building, which was in course of erection, was 193 feet long by 100 feet wide, and constructed of brick and iron. At the time of the accident forty-two men were at work on the structure and twenty-five others were working in the immediate vicinity. The men were engaged in hoisting an immense iron truss, when it toppled over and striking an iron beam knocked the iron girders out. The immense structure at once fell together with an awful crash, burying nearly all the men in the ruins.

The work of rescue was immediately begun and all the men extricated in a short time. It was then found that but one had been killed outright and two others fatally injured. The latter died while being removed to a hospital.

The injured are all doing well.

The plant was formerly owned by the Elba Iron and Bolt company, but was recently purchased by the Pittsburg Oil Well Supply company.

The loss will be quite heavy.

SPORTING ITEMS IN LONDON.

Pritchard Wants to Fight and Charley Rowell Wants to Run.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The following special cable was received by the Police Gazette from London yesterday: Pritchard has challenged Charley Mitchell to fight for £1,000 and the championship of England.

Pritchard states he is not going to the United States, but is willing to fight either Bob Fitzsimmons or Jim Hall for £1,000 a side and allow expenses, the fight to take place either in the National Sporting club or the Pelican club, provided they offer a purse.

Charley Rowell called at The Sporting Life yesterday, posted £50 and accepted the challenge of John Hughes to run any distance from twenty-four hours to six days for £200 a side and the championship of the world. Should Hughes fail to back up his challenge, Rowell will run any man in the world upon the same conditions.

CRACKER TRUST.

All the Great Factories Now Under One Management.

OMAHA, July 30.—It was announced here today through private telegrams that the New York Biscuit company has sold and leased its factories at Omaha, Denver, Cedar Rapids and Des Moines to the National Cracker company. The latter company is composed of stockholders of the American Biscuit company.

Simultaneous with this came a telegram ordering the local managers to advance prices to the old standard. They have been selling at less than cost. It is stated that in future the American company will control the trade west of Chicago, and the New York company east of there, thus avoiding competition.

The managers are very reticent, but one dropped the remark that the National company would probably close the western factories just acquired.

Fourteen People Drowned.

BERLIN, July 30.—A serious drowning accident is reported from Essen. Fourteen employees of the water works were crossing the River Ruhr in a boat, when the boat capsized, and all were drowned.

DUBLIN, July 30.—Dillon and O'Brien were released from jail yesterday, although their term of imprisonment did not expire until today.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

LITTLE ROCK, July 30.—A passenger train on the Iron Mountain road, from St. Louis, was wrecked yesterday afternoon thirty miles north of here. Heavy rains caused the track to spread. The engine and four cars plunged down an embankment. A colored woman named Ward was fatally injured, also, an infant in her charge. The express messenger was slightly injured. Engineer Campbell was badly bruised and Fireman Trace was terribly scalded. Several passengers sustained slight injuries.

Body Washed Ashore.

BOSTON, July 30.—The body of Edna Bragg, who drowned herself in the Charles river last Friday, was washed ashore at Cambridgeport yesterday. It was much discolored and disfigured, being cut by oyster shells and pebbles. Mrs. Bragg yesterday afternoon identified the body as that of her daughter, and an autopsy will be held tomorrow.

Chicago Knights in Ontario.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 30.—St. Bernard commandery, Knights Templar, of Chicago, left yesterday for a visit to Muskoka lake. They return in fifteen days on their way to Chicago.

Ex-Speaker Reed Back.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed was among the passengers arriving on the steamer City of New York from Liverpool yesterday.

Bank President Dead.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., July 30.—Hon. Henry G. Hubbard, president of the Russell Manufacturing company and the Middletown National bank, died yesterday aged 77. He leaves a fortune estimated at $30,000,000.

Refused a Landing.

BOSTON, July 30.—The customs authorities have refused to permit thirty Russian emigrants, who arrived on the steamer Norseman yesterday, to land. The emigrants are thought likely to become a public charge.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA

Their Action Causes Great Anxiety in Germany.

FRENCH FLEET AT CRONSTADT.

Russia Preparing to Mobilize One Million of Troops on the Austrian and German Frontiers—Comments of a Paris Paper.

Other Dispatches from Over the Ocean.

LONDON, July 30.—A Berlin dispatch says that the enthusiastic reception of the French fleet at Cronstadt is almost the sole topic of discussion in that city, and the occasion is viewed with seriousness, very different from the ridicule which used to be heaped on the effort of France to win the good will of Russia.

The decidedly warlike aspect of everything connected with the affair has aroused no little anxiety, it is stated, in the highest quarters.

THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1891.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,
JOHN YOUNG BROWN.
For Lieutenant Governor,
M. C. ALFORD.
For Attorney General,
W. J. HENDRICK.
For Auditor,
L. C. NORMAN.
For Treasurer,
H. S. HALE.
For Register of Land Office,
G. B. SWANGO.
For Superintendent Public Instruction,
E. PORTER THOMPSON.
For Clerk of Court of Appeals,
ABRAM ADDAMS.
For Representative,
DR. JOHN M. FRAZEE.

THERE should be no stay-at-home Democrats next Monday. Let every vote be polled.

No DEMOCRAT who has the interests of his party at heart will fail to go to the polls next Monday.

REPUBLICANS are boasting openly that they will carry the State next Monday. Democrats, see that your full vote is polled.

If any one should attempt to use money in this city against the new Constitution next Monday, he will likely land in the lock-up. A friend of the Constitution says he will have the bribe arrested.

CARTER COUNTY comes to the front this week with an aspirant for the Appellate Judgeship, in the person of Hon. E. B. Wilhoit. With three candidates already in the field it seems the fight is to be a lively one from the start.

In figuring on the approaching Ohio election, bear in mind that it will be held under the Australian ballot system. Governor Campbell is confident of winning. His chances are first-class, notwithstanding the disaffection in the ranks.

GENERAL BROWN, a veteran Republican of Cincinnati, denounces the G. O. P. machine in that city in severe terms and says the party down there is run by men "whose presence would disgrace a decent home." The crowd must be a "tough" one.

THE Aberdeen Gretna Green says: "The Democrats have all fallen into line, and are using every effort to poll for Campbell the largest vote ever given any candidate for Governor by Huntington Township."

If the rest of the State does as well as Huntington Township Campbell will be re-elected.

JUDGE BENNETT, of the Court of Appeals, says: "I'm for the new Constitution. I think the good features largely counterbalance those that are objectionable, and through the medium of the open clause, we can get a first-class instrument within ten years if we haven't what we want to start with."

Vote for it next Monday.

JUDGE LEWIS, of the Court of Appeals, is also in favor of the new Constitution. Read what he said some days ago: "I am strongly for it, because I think it a better instrument than the old. That equalization of taxes is one of its best features.

Then, too, the doing away with special legislation is going to be a great thing for our people; it will save the State thousands of dollars and stop the lobbying that is going on."

HERE's the way the Greenup Gazette talks: "It is said there is to be money raised to defeat the adoption of the new Constitution. We hope this will not prove true; for if it should prove true, it would be a number one thing to do to lynch the man or men who undertake to influence the voters either way on the subject. Let all parties keep clear and let there be a fair and honest expression of the will of the people."

WHEREAS, the members of the Knights of Labor are for any honorable means for progression, therefore be it

Resolved, That the State Assembly of the Knights of Labor of Kentucky, in convention assembled at Louisville, July 25, be requested to endorse said proposed Constitution and urge upon every member in this State to vote for its adoption.

Resolved, That the State Assembly of Kentucky Knights of Labor urge upon all members that in case of its adoption to vote only for such candidates as will give their support toward striking out all objectionable clauses as the people desire from time to time.

The opposition used Mr. Powderly to influence the Kentucky members of the order against the new Constitution, but they have failed, as the above demonstrates.

Democracy's Leader.

"Mr. Brown will bring his long and brilliant canvass to a close at Pembroke, Christian County, next Saturday," says the Louisville Times. "He has delivered elaborate addresses in eighty-odd of the one hundred and nineteen counties in the State, inciting his political followers to enthusiasm, and compelling the respect of all who have come within reach of his voice or in sight of his person. Both the matter and the manner of his utterances in public and in private have commanded him to the great masses of the people, and carried conviction to their heads and hearts that in choosing him as the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth about to leave the old behind and enter upon the second century of a yet more glorious Statehood, they will make no mistake and take no step backward. The banner-bearer of Kentucky Democracy will have done, at the close of this week, all that is within the reach of the ablest of generals, and it only remains for his followers to close up ranks and crown a brilliant campaign with glorious victory at the polls next Monday."

Let Mason County Democrats do their part not only for the brilliant leader but for the whole ticket. Don't stay at home. See that a full vote is cast for Brown and the rest of the nominees.

JUDGE PRYOR, of the Court of Appeals, said weeks ago: "I am for the new Constitution and think that the people are going to adopt it. It was made for the masses as against aggregated capital, and while no injustice has been done to the one, the interests of the other are much better protected. It is vastly superior to the old Constitution. The vital points of it are the provisions with reference to taxation and those reforming the legislative department."

The opinions of such men as Judge Pryor are worthy of consideration. Make up your mind to vote for the proposed new organic law next Monday.

NOBODY BUT CLEVELAND.

Democratic Editors Unanimous in Their Preference for Him—Hill Isn't in It.

COLUMBUS, O., July 28.—Mr. Dan Bowersmith, city editor of the State Journal and a veteran newspaper man, attended the meeting of the National Editors' Association, held at St. Paul last week, and brings home some information as to the political sentiments of the editors. Every State was represented at its meeting, and as both Democratic and Republican journals were represented by their proprietors or chief editors there was an excellent opportunity to learn about things. Mr. Bowersmith says that the Democratic editors were singularly unanimous in their expression of preference for Cleveland as the man to lead the party next year. From every section came the voice. Even the Westerners, who are not in accord with the anti-free coinage principles of Cleveland, say that they want him. Cleveland is loved for one reason—because he was the first Democratic candidate to get into the Presidential chair for a quarter of a century, and, peculiar as it is, is liked for his very obstinacy. The manner in which he whipped his party about and bent everyone to his will is actually held to his credit. Hill, so the editors said, would not have enough votes in the convention if a candidate against Cleveland to make a decent showing.

In Kentucky Jails.

A census bulletin lately issued shows the number of prisoners in county jails in Kentucky to be 646, of which number forty-six are women and 307 colored. The number has increased considerably over the census of 1880, at which time it was 471. The per centage to the general population has also increased, the number of prisoners to each million people having been 286 in 1880 and 348 in 1890.

Leslie County is reported as having no jail and the following counties are reported as having no prisoners in their jails: Boyle, Bracken, Carlisle, Carroll, Clay, Elliott, Estill, Fleming, Floyd, Grant, Harlan, Harrison, Knott, Letcher, Lyon, Magoffin, Marshall, Martin, Menifee, Morgan, Oldham, Owsley, Perry, Powell, Robertson, Trigg, and Trimble.

The proportion of prisoners to population in Kentucky is a little greater than the average throughout the United States.

Culled Comicalities.

Sunday is the summer landlord's day of rest.

"Please honor us with you presents," reads a Western invitation to a wedding.

"What a waist of money!" exclaimed the feminine smuggler as she wrapped a few shawls about her.

In the last six months $75,000,000 in gold has left this country. This looks as if the palace-car porters were asleep or something.

There are said to be nearly six thousand pieces in a modern locomotive—especially when the engineer fails to see the rear lights on the train ahead.

A Snake Swallowed a Snake.

It was back somewhere in the sixties when the incident I am about to relate occurred. The date has not been put back so as to prevent a critical examination by the incredulous, but because it belongs to that period.

There were three of us hunting prairie chickens. They were plentier then than they are now. It was but a little task to secure a bag of them. But only a few can have such a rare treat now as the breast of a young prairie chicken fried.

As we were tramping cautiously through the thick, clean prairie grass a blue racer moved slowly out of our way. It was not the length of the snake that attracted our attention, but its unusual thickness and its indisposition to get out of the way. Neither did it show any inclination to resist the invasion. Its eyes had not the well known flash of fight. The bulging thickness of the snake excited our curiosity. After killing it one of the boys with his knife ripped it open, and there to our great surprise out rolled a rattlesnake which was nearly as long, and before he had been compressed seemed to have been nearly as thick as the racer. He had, if I remember correctly, a button and two rattles.

If I had the opportunity now, I would be more careful in the examination of such a rare natural wonder. I would measure the length and thickness of both snakes, and would also be sure to find out whether the rattlesnake was swallowed head or tail first, and whether he had been started on his inland journey before or after death.

I had heard that snakes swallowed toads and frogs without dissection, but had doubts of the ability of the snake to so expand his throat; but after this incident I doubt no more, and would not be greatly surprised to hear of a racer swallowing himself.—J. B. Marlin in Central Christian Advocate.

Evolution of the Knife.

"This caseful of implements which we have newly placed on exhibition is designed to show the development of the tool which we call the knife, beginning from the earliest times," said Professor Mason at the National museum. "First, you observe, is the fragrant of flint, which the savage split by banging it on top with a stone hammer into a number of flakes. The smaller ones were used for arrow points and the bigger ones for knives, their edges being split off so sharp that you might almost shave with some of them. Next you see the flint inserted into a handle of split wood or bone, and as farther improvements, the fastenings of this primitive knife in the handle by the resin of trees and by cord of one sort or another bound around to secure it.

"The most beautiful knife in the collection is this exquisitely molded blade of greenish jade, belonging to the stone age, branded with a walrus tusk. You can hardly find a more admirably formed weapon among the products of modern cutlery wares. Most curious of the modern tools here is this sailor's knife, square at the end instead of pointed, to prevent stabbing in a row, or the dangerous falling of the weapon from aloft. Its blade drops out at the end of the handle when a spring is touched, so that Jack can hold a rope with one hand and open the knife for service without the need of ten fingers."—Washington Star.

All on Account of a Hen.

'Twas only a little hen, with a lopped comb and a flushed face, that broke up the pastorate of an able Maine parson. She used to sneak under the fence, you know, just the way hens do always, tip-toe across the grass border with the minister step and then the elder's garden had to take it. Of course it was aggravating. Did you ever watch a hen at this job?

She trips carelessly into the middle of the garden bed; she cocks her head; a careless look comes into her eye; she balances partners with a flip and a scrape to the right, a flirt and a kick to the left, a double shuffle and a grand skirt dance flourish. Then she looks for grub.

Well, that person saw the whole thing for days; same hen, same gestures, and she came in miraculously, astonishingly, through a new hole every day. Then came at length wrath and a girding of the loins; a gun, bang!—dead hen floating upon the placid breast of a river eddy. The current washed the corpse upon the neighbor's strand and then the neighborhood heard the tale. The atrocious was fanned vigorously and the poor parson found that he was not to be an assassin and the leader of the parish at the same time. Therefore his farewell sermon.—Dexter Gazette.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

F. S. Verbeck, who represents the type foundry of Messrs. Barnhardt Bros. & Spindler, Chicago, says: "On my return home from a trip I found our little girl sick with summer complaint. I went to a drug store and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. We gave her a few doses according to directions. She recovered in a short time and we were well pleased with the medicine." For sale by Power & Reynolds.

KING KELLEY.

He and His "Killers" Shut the Maysville Boys Entirely Out Yesterday Afternoon.

It didn't take the Maysville boys very long yesterday afternoon to find out that they were not "in it" when playing ball with King Kelley and his "killers."

The Cincinnati crowd had things their own way from the start, and the Maysville boys didn't score a single run.

Five or six hundred people went out to Chester Park to witness the game, but it was too one-sided to be entertaining to lovers of the national sport.

Quite a number of ladies were present, and the BULLETIN is informed that some of them now talk of challenging the Maysville boys for a game.

King Kelley and his crowd left this morning for Ironton where they play today. To-morrow they will do up the Huntington team. They came to Maysville on a guarantee of $100, and as the gate receipts amounted to about $60 only, the parties who subscribed to the guarantee fund had to go down in their pockets for the money.

It was a rather expensive game for several of the guarantors. Score: Cincinnati, 14; Maysville, 0.

The unfortunate man was dragged a quarter of a mile, and when picked up it was found that his skull was fractured. He received other injuries, the flesh being torn from one of his arms.

Dr. Owens was summoned and dressed the wounds. Evans was unconscious at last accounts, and there is but slight hopes of his recovery.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

The Hotel Aldine at Ashland Badly Wrecked.

The guests of the Hotel Aldine, of Ashland, had a very narrow escape this week from being crushed to death by the falling of the floors of the west half of the building.

Shortly after one o'clock Tuesday a large opening was being made in an inner wall, between the dining room and what was formerly used as drummers' sample room, the intention being to construct an arched entrance, when both rooms were to be used as dining rooms.

Most of the guests had just finished dining and retired, says the Signal, when a voice rang out in alarm to those remaining: "For God's sake! get out of here, all of you, quick!" The first indication of the collapse was noticed by the workmen at the passage way, when, on removing a few bricks from one side of the opening, several more bricks voluntarily followed; these were followed by a still greater number, and in a few seconds it was discovered that the entire wall was crumbling and that nothing could prevent the calamity.

The alarmed guests just had time to make their escape when with a crash three floors covering a space of about one-half of the large building fell, bringing down in one confused mass, furniture, bedding, heavy timbers, plastering, etc. A few guests were in the rooms at the time, but were so fortunate as to make their escape before the crash came.

The accident will entail a loss of thousands of dollars to the proprietors of the building.

FOR THE FARMER.

It is predicted that within one decade the States west of Ohio will produce enough beet sugar to supply the entire demand of the country.

Mr. Ed. Martin threshed 1,000 bushels of wheat on his place near town last week. It was sold to Maysville parties at 86 cents per bushel.—Ripley Bee.

Harry Eales has shipped 15,000 bushels of wheat from Kiser and Shawhan to Maysville. He is not allowed to ship any more until the great blockade is removed, there being large quantities gathering at all the depots en route to Maysville. He has found the average per acre about twenty bushels.—Paris Kentuckian.

QUAY AND DUDLEY.

Both Resign from the National Republican Committee.

MEETING HELD IN WASHINGTON.

Their Resignation Accepted by the Executive Committee, but Will Be Referred to the National Committee at Its Next Meeting.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The executive committee of the national Republican committee began its session behind closed doors at the Arlington house in this city at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the meeting continued for over three hours.

Those present were Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, the chairman; J. S. Clarkson, of Iowa, vice chairman; J. S. Sloat Fassett, of New York, secretary; Samuel Fessenden, of Connecticut; J. Manchester Haynes, of Maine; Garrett A. Hobart, of New Jersey, and W. W. Dudley, of Indiana.

Colonel Scott, of Omaha, who has been sent to Washington to urge that his city be selected as the place for holding the next national convention, appeared before the committee and presented Omaha's claims, and the committee referred the matter to the general committee. The most important business of the afternoon session was the action of the committee in authorizing its chairman and the secretary to call a meeting of the entire national committee at such place and time in November as they may select for the purpose of deciding on the place where the next national convention shall be held.

The greater part of the session was taken up with the examination of bills for expenses of the recent campaigns, and some attention was also devoted to communications from outside parties giving advice as to proposed methods for running the coming campaign. A letter containing statistics of the growth of the Farmers' Alliance and other independent political parties was examined carefully at some length. After W. J. Campbell had been elected a member of the committee from Illinois in place of George B. Davis, the committee took a recess for dinner.

Behind the closed doors of the room in the Arlington House where the executive committee of the Republican national committee held its session last night, Matthew Stanley Quay tendered his resignation as a member and chairman of both the executive committee and the national committee in a note containing the information that he had sent to the Pennsylvania state committee, his resignation as the representative of that state in the national organization.

W. W. Dudley, treasurer of the national committee, also tendered his resignation of that office, and the executive committee adopted eloquent resolutions setting forth the services of Senator Quay and General Dudley, and expressing regret at their action. The members of the executive committee had been informed of Senator Quay's resignation, and there was no surprise manifested when Secretary Fassett, soon after the session opened, read the following communication:

WASHINGTON, July 29.
Hon. J. Sloat Fassett, Secretary National Republican Committee:

DEAR SIR—This is to apprise you that I have today forwarded to Hon. William H. Andrews, chairman of the Republican state committee of Pennsylvania, my resignation as the member of the Republican national committee from that state. Yours truly, M. S. QUAY.

The chairman then read the following letter:

WASHINGTON, July 29, 1891.
To the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee:

MY FRIENDS AND ASSOCIATES—Inasmuch as you are about to reorganize the executive committee for immediate preparatory work pending the approaching presidential election of 1892, and as my business engagements will demand all my time and attention during the coming year, I am compelled to sever the pleasant relations which have existed and still exist between us.

I therefore tender my resignation of the office of treasurer of your committee and of the Republican national committee. Respectively yours,

W. W. DUDLEY.

A resolution complimentary to General Dudley and accepting his resignation was immediately produced, read and adopted.

The resignations of Chairman Quay and Treasurer Dudley were then formally laid on the table and accepted subject to the approval of the full Republican national committee at its next meeting.

Mr. Clarkson was elected chairman of the executive committee, and Mr. Hobart was elected vice chairman in the place of Mr. Clarkson, the chairman being authorized to select a treasurer to succeed Mr. Dudley.

The committee then adjourned.

Mr. Clarkson will act as chairman of the national committee until a meeting of that body can be held to elect a successor to Senator Quay.

A Peculiar Accident.

TIFFIN, O., July 30.—An accident occurred yesterday morning that is noteworthy because of its peculiarity. Two boys named Gilmore and Bartlett were playing in an orchard. The former climbed a tree and fell, alighting upon his companion. The boy who fell escaped uninjured, but the boy beneath suffered a broken leg and other serious injuries.

TRUSTS TO BE WATCHED.
Vigorous Instructions from Attorney General Miller.

CLEVELAND, July 30.—United States District Attorney Brinsford, of this city, has received the following from Washington:

SIR—I beg to call your attention to the anti-trusts statute enacted by the Fifty-first congress. It is my desire that you examine the law carefully. Lay it alongside any combinations or trusts within your district, and if by such measurements it is found that those trusts or combinations are infractions of the law, prosecute vigorously. They are great abuses, and if the law can be made to reach them, it is the duty of the law officers of the government, as I doubt not it will be their pleasure, to do everything possible within the law to suppress them and to punish the wrongdoers.

The United States circuit court for the middle district of Tennessee has held the law to be constitutional. Yours very truly,

W. H. H. MILLER,
Attorney General.

Married on Niagara Bridge.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 30.—Henry Bird, of Newark, N. J., aged 50, and Miss Carrie Scudder, whose age cannot be more than half that, were the contracting parties in a romantic marriage last night. As the sun was sinking, the couple, together with Justice Russell and a curious crowd, repaired to the center of the suspension bridge, where, amid the falling spray and the thunder of the cataract, the justice tied the nuptial knot. A banquet at the Casino followed, where every one who called was made welcome.

Cincinnati Go to Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.—John T. Brush, the Indianapolis ball magnate, has secured a lease on the Young Men's Christian Association ball park and has had the grand stand removed from the old Athletic park to his new acquisition. Tariff Reform League.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.—The executive committee of the Indian Tariff Reform League met yesterday afternoon and decided to strengthen the tariff reform organizations of the several counties and enter at once upon a campaign of education throughout the state. BALTIMORE, July 30.—Yesterday was the big day of the year 1891 for the Prohibition party in Maryland, the occasion being the meeting of the state convention at Glyndon, where the following ticket was placed in nomination: For governor, Edwin Higgins, of Baltimore; for comptroller, Joshua Levering, of Baltimore; for attorney general, Hosea B.
